Adult and Family Camp Pricing 2026

Camp Huckins has long sought to ensure that Huckins' experience is as affordable as possible for as many families as possible. This has meant maintaining rates that do not fully capture the complete cost of operating and maintaining the camp for the long term. In recent years we have seen the number of family members sharing a cabin for our Family Camps shrinking. We know both college and work play a big role in this. Instead of raising rates across the board that might price families out of camp we have decided to reinstate the minimum cabin charge for Family Week and Labor Day Weekend.

This pricing is designed to be respectful to those that have sustained our community all these years while still being an inclusive and welcoming community for new families applying to attend for the first time. If the cost for family members attending does not meet the minimum, we will add a charge to bring your cost up to the minimum. If a smaller family wants to share a cabin with another family or bring friends - those are both great options to meet the minimum.
